Three o'clock. The house is dark . . . and has been for a long time. It's the heart of the night for sleeping. But two pair of eyes are wide open.

"Dear, can't you sleep, either?" "No, I can't get Jim off my mind." Jim . . . their son. A good boy . . . but unpredictable as any eighteen year old American kid can be.

Little thoughts begin to gnaw . . . "Jim's never been out this late before . . . O God, don't let the phone ring . . . Jim's a good driver, but you can't tell about the other fellow . . . Who's he with? . . . Why doesn't he call? . . . Maybe he's out with the wrong crowd . . . Wait till I get my hands on that kid . . . Oh, Jim, please come home . . ."

Where's Jim? Well, no one but Jim knows.

The next time your son goes out the door with the shout, "See you later, I'm going out," be certain that you and your church have built around his young life a shelter that will bring him back the same fine boy that left.

NO ONE WAS INJURED; PROPERTY DAMAGE IS ABOUT $300

Three traffic accidents occurred here Saturday and city police reported that three cars were involved in two of the mishaps. No one was injured in any of the accidents but the total property damage was estimated at nearly $300.

Police said the first accident was at 10:20 a. m. on Bloomington street. William E. Parrish, Greencastle Route 3, driving a 1941 Chevrolet, was following Robert E. Harvey, also of Route 3, who was driving a 1938 Plymouth.

Harvey, who planned to make a left hand turn, stopped for oncoming traffic and Parrish's car ran into the rear of Harvey's automobile. The Parrish car then bounced over into a parked 1937 Plymouth, owned by Jewel Henry Varvel.

Parrish was given a ticket for driving with faulty brakes. He pleaded guilty in Justice of the Peace O. T. Ellis' court and was fined $1 and costs. Police said damage to Parrish's car was $75 and $60 to Varvel's car.

At 11:10 a. m., another three-car accident occurred at the intersection of Vine and Franklin streets. John Holsapple, Greencastle Route 3, driving a 1949 Plymouth, collided with a 1941 Chevrolet driven by Lloyd Williams, city. Holsapple's car then spun around and hit a parked 1938 Chevrolet belonging to Everett Eugene Hinkle, Greencastle Route 2. Damage to the three autos was estimated at more than $100.

At 2:55 p. m., a 1937 Plymouth, driven by Frank Giron, Fillmore Route 1, and a 1949 Kaiser, driven by Arthur Baskett, Greencastle Route 3, got together at the intersection of Durham and Franklin streets. Damage was estimated at less than $50.

OMAHA, Neb., March 5—(INS)—Four hostages kidnapped and held overnight were left bound in a farmhouse early today by a young gunman and two inmates he liberated at gunpoint from the county jail at Omaha. The Omaha sheriff's office reported one of the four men held prisoner since the daring jailbreak yesterday afternoon telephoned his office after the quartet had loosened their bonds and freed themselves.

TOKYO, March 5—(INS)—Two American divisions hampered our gains of more than two miles of Korea's mountainous east central front Monday and a tank patrol entered Changpyong, a key road junction.

With the support of artillery and air barrages, the U. S. Second and Seventh Divisions hurled the assault against some 6,000 Red troops strongly entrenched on a wind-lashed plateau.

For the second day in succession the Seventh Division rammed a tank patrol into Changpyong. As they did Sunday the tanks later withdrew to within the United Nations defense perimeter.

A Monday night front dispatch from International News Service war correspondent Frank Coniff said the Americans carried out a "day long advance" in heavy fighting north and northwest of Pangnim.

WASHINGTON, March 5—(INS)—The Supreme Court today agreed to review the bitter dispute over color television.

But the court's consent to review the refusal by a three-judge panel to scrap a government decision in the matter does not mean the nation is any closer to viewing color TV.

LEGISLATURE TO ADJOURN AT MIDNIGHT

LAWMAKERS WILL END 61-DAY SESSION ON TIME, RELIEF

INDIANAPOLIS, March 5—(INS)—Indiana's safe and sane General assembly is to end its 61-day session at midnight tonight.

Practically all issues have been settled and there was little to do but pick up loose ends and go through mechanical formalities today.

For the first time in more than 35 years, it seems certain that the lawmakers will quite on time without going through the foolish gesture of setting back the hands of the clock.

Many persons have called it a do-nothing session, but Republican majority leaders said frankly that their policy had been the less we do the better off the state will be.

The legislature held what was believed to have been its first Sunday session yesterday. The lawmakers toiled until almost four o'clock Sunday morning to insure adjournment on time.

Interest centered today on what Gov. Henry F. Schickler will do about two bills pertaining to the State Welfare Department on which legislative action has been completed.

One would open the welfare rolls to public inspection, including access to information on persons receiving welfare aid and the amounts they receive. The governor has been concerned whether this removal of secrecy will result in withdrawal of $13 million annually in federal welfare allowances from Indiana.

The other measure would authorize a legislative probe of the entire welfare system, both state and county.

The bill appropriates $5,000 for the investigation, which would be conducted by a six-member bipartisan commission, three members to be named by the Republican speaker of the House and three by the Democratic Lieutenant Governor. Findings would be reported to the next General Assembly two years hence.

The House Ways and Means Committee B now is ending a probe of lobbying expenditures of the State Welfare Department during the current session as well as those of the State School for the Deaf.

Witnesses Saturday night estimated the total at $4,350 for the Welfare Department.

The governor is expected to sign soon bills for immediate payment of the state bonus to 50,000 disabled veterans and to the next of kin of deceased veterans and for setting up state civil defense.

The bonus measure was delayed until Saturday night because of insistence by the House that conscientious objectors be excluded and by the Senate's stand that they be included. The conflict ended in a compromise under which the bonus will be paid only to those conscientious objectors who were wounded or killed in actual military service.

The civil defense measure carries an appropriation of $500,000, including $350,000 for a contingency fund and $150,000 for administrative purposes. The bills authorize a 13-member civil defense council and a full-time director and staff to be named by the governor. Cities will not be liable for personal services of (Continued on Page Two)

FARMERS ARE UP IN ARMS ABOUT ROADS

CONDITION IS BLAMED ON LACK OF MATERIALS DURING YEARS

Putnam county farmers are up in arms over the condition of the highways. From the sections they report they are unable to get vehicles through the deep mud-holes. The condition exists in the west end of the county. One farm road was blocked over a night and Saturday by a track which mired down in the middle of the road.

A north Putnam farmer is using a team of horses to haul his corn from his farm to a hard way a mile or two away a can't get through with it.

Despite the fact that the weather has been hard on the roads, most people are beginning to believe it is due to lack of material over the years. One farmer reported no stone had been on his road for five years—more than a load or two, and a bad weather or no weather condition of materials will cause roads to go to pieces.

In a west county road, one farmer brings his tractor to the spot each morning and pulls it in which several men ride. He leaves the tractor on the side of the mudhole and in evening pulls his car back through the mudhole. This practice has been going on for two years.

It is doubtful if the highway department will have enough money to haul enough stone to necessary repairs on the ways this summer, so heavy damage been.

A delegation from south Washington township appeared before the county commissioners their meeting Monday asking help to get out of the mud-holes which have stopped much of their traffic.

Letters were also read from farmers at Reelsville and after Point, in which they said as the roads were repaired, delivery would have to be mailed or diverted only to pass the roads.

Records in the office of Mr. this show the county is having approximately $200,000 annually. In 1950, the total sum was $186,056.34; and estimate for 1951 is $198,000.

In 1949, the county received a total of $198,791.92 and in 1948 received $187,525.51.

It has been charged that the annual expense this year has been higher than it should be, and this is not true. The records show that the ratio of help expense to material is about the same as in former years, $8,000 to $14,000 per pay day.

It was agreed by all concerned that some of the roads have adequate ditching and as a result, much of the water on the hills is running down the roadways. It was also stated in the meeting today that last year the county purchased equipment to the extent of $10,000 and this came out of material funds.

SUIT FOR DIVORCE
Mrs. Rowena Jones has filed suit for divorce in circuit court from Charles Jones, who is employed in Marion county. They were married April 6, 1946, and separated Feb. 21, 1951. She asks custody of two minor children, Ellen & Lyon are attorneys for the plaintiff.

Legislature

disaster workers, but for equipment from other cities damaged.

The governor today also is sure to sign the record-breaking biennial budget totaling $546,015,000, which involves an estimated $46,800,000 in deficit financing.

The fate of the controversial Hasbrook House anti-lottery bill, however, is in the lap of the gods. The Senate Saturday afternoon passed the measure, 27-to-12 after riddling it with amendments. The House late Saturday night dissented from the Senate amendments, throwing the bill into the laps of a House-Senate conference committee.

Blind Representative Thomas C. Hasbrook, Indianapolis Republican who authored the bill, in opposing the Senate amendments, said:

"The bill has been so butchered up in the Senate that it resembles a hot dog that has gone through a meat grinder. The only teeth this bill has now are buck teeth and I'd like a chance to fight for restoration of its original purpose."

The original bill would have penalized severely the possession of lottery or pool tickets, up to a $1,000 fine and imprisonment for a year. But the Senate amendments have made the measure unconstitutional, according to its backers. These amendments would provide:

Exclusion of raffle tickets sold by church, fraternal, patriotic, labor unions, clubs and societies from provisions of the bill.

Prevention of newspapers from printing race track results or "odds or points of any trials of speed between men or animals in any game."

Making law enforcement officials and other individuals liable for fines from $100 to $1,000 and prison sentences of one to five years for conspiring to permit gambling.

The governor today received a diluted bill to take the State Highway Department out of politics. At present some 500 professional employees would be under the merit system. Originally, it had applied to some 600 persons, but it was amended to keep the chief engineer, superintendent of maintenance, district engineers and sub-district superintendents under the political patronage system.

Also before the governor is the bill imposing severe penalties on companies operating overweight trucks which have badly damaged Indiana's roads. Operation of an overweight truck is made a felony punishable by a prison term of one to five years and fines of $500 to $1,000. State police would be empowered to impound trucks found overweight until court fines are paid.

The Legislature this week-end also completed action on a bill to hike the license fee for semi-trailers by $20 and bring the state almost $225,000 in additional annual revenue.

Other measures passed at the week-end session would:

Give judges of the Supreme and Appellate Courts a salary boost from their present $11,000 to $13,500 and permit a hike in pay of Marion county judges from the present $9,000 to $13,500.

Increase hunting and fishing license by 50 cents, to raise $200,000 additional annually for the Department of Conservation.

The Senate killed House bill providing mandatory jail terms for drunken drivers and to abolish the Indiana Economic Council. The bill to strengthen the State Fair Employment Practices law by bringing erring employers into court for discrimination against minority groups was left to die in the Senate Labor Committee.

Three questions to ask about any automatic drive —

Before you buy any new car today, ask these questions about its automatic drive . . .

Does it end clutch-pushing and gear-shifting? Is the answer "No," then it isn't as simple and smooth and safe as a modern automatic drive should be. (In Packard Ultramatic, there's no clutch-pushing—and no gear-shifting.)

Can I rock it in snow, sand or mud? If the answer is "No," then it isn't as flexible as it should be. (With Packard Ultramatic Drive, you can change instantly from Forward to Reverse.)

Does it cruise in solid, direct drive? If the answer is "No," then it isn't as efficient as it should be. (Packard Ultra-matic Drive lets you cruise in solid, direct drive at all cruising speeds.)

On these three counts—and on many count—Packard's exclusive Ultramatic Drive leads the field. Come in—drive it. ASK THE MAN WHO OWNS ONE.

NEARLY FOUR DECADES of aviation progress is emphasized in this scene at San Diego, Cal. The big jet is a Consolidated B-24D Air Force bomber with six pusher and four jet engines. The tiny little plane is a Curtiss-type biplane built in 1912 by W. D. Parker, now an oil sales executive. It has just one pusher engine. The big bomber's four jets develop 42,000 hp, compared with the biplane's 80 with a nine-cylinder rotary engine made in France. The biplane (which still flies) has a top speed of 71 mph to the bomber's 435 or faster.

And now this famous company announces what it considers to be the greatest and by far the most effective product their scientific laboratories ever developed—their sensational NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS. This is the first time such a formula has ever been made available to women.

These facts alone should convince girls and women that you owe it to yourself and your loved ones to try these amazing NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS if you're troubled this way.

Why They Are So Effective

NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS are a most effective uterine sedative which work through a woman's sympathetic nervous system and help prevent the source of such monthly female pains by lessening the painful contractions—thus exercising a wonderfully soothing effect on one of woman's most important organs. That is why they bring such wonderful, welcome relief. Regular use helps build up resistance against such female distress. Don't let another day go by. At least buy a trial size of these sensational NEW Lydia Pinkham's TABLETS today. See if you don't soon begin to feel like a different woman.

Cards Nosed Out
By Trojans, 33-32

Fillmore's Cardinals lost a one-point decision Saturday afternoon to Covington, ultimate winners of the Clinton regional, 33 to 32. The Trojans went on to defeat Waveland also by a lone point Saturday night, 50 to 49.

At the end of twenty-nine minutes of play, Fillmore was leading, 32-25. A free throw that missed was tipped in by Jack Kenny, Covington center, for a field goal and the aspect of the game changed. The Trojans came to life with a bang and sank two more baskets.

During this Covington rally, the Cards first tried to stall and then to score but were unsuccessful. Fillmore was out in front, 19 to 15, at the half and held the upper hand except for the closing minutes.

Looking at Life

ERICH BRANDEIS

It would be a very good thing if not too many youngsters of school age read the report of Professor Henry D. Ogden on the subject of headaches.

Educated people get more headaches than the less educated he discovered in a survey—and if you want to be almost completely free of headaches, be a farmer.

Surveys are a wonderful institution. But they can be just like statistics.

They can be very accurate and they can be awful liars.

To our government they are a blessing.

Thousands of men and women on the public payroll are kept busy on nothing but surveys, and thus political debts are conveniently paid off. By the same statistics many different things can be proven.

However, I was talking about headaches.

Another fact the good professor discovered is that bachelors have more headaches than married men.

He doesn't seem to know why, I do.

I certainly had more headaches when I was a bachelor than I have now.

Nine times out of ten they were the morning-after-the-night-before kind.

They were easy to cure. A good night's sleep usually did the trick.

The headaches I have now—and you probably have the same experiences—are not so easy to remedy.

They occur regularly each year around March 15th, and often around the first of each month when the mailman brings the bills.

I am afraid there will be quite a general increase in headaches if Mr. Truman sends many more requests for tax increases to Congress.

The professor also found that women have more headaches than men.

You know, of course, that most women's headaches are caused by men.

And, undoubtedly—although the professor didn't say so—married women have more headaches than bachelorettes.

An unmarried woman is not as apt to tell her man that he gives her a headache as a wife would.

A man can give his wife a headache merely by complaining that she hasn't boiled his eggs long enough.

Young persons, according to the survey, get more headaches than older ones.

Since there are more bachelors among young people than among old ones, that is quite understandable.

Reveals "Conspiracy"

CARL STRANDLUND, president of Lustron Housing Corp., tells Senate "influence" investigators in Washington that E. Merl Young, accused "influence peddler," and government officials including Reconstruction Finance Corp. director Walter D. Dunham, and Rex Jacobson, Detroit manufacturer, "conspired" to wrest control of the firm from him for their own gains. Strandlund stated that at the time of RFC-financed Lustron's difficulties, Young was employed by Lustron at $18,000 a year, and was also being paid $10,000 by Jacobson's metal products firm, (INS).

FERGUSON HAS EXPANSIVE PROGRAM

According to Russell Carson, president of Tractor Specialties Corporation in Greenfield, Indiana distributors for the Ferguson Tractor and Farm Equipment lines, building contracts for $500,000 engineering and research laboratory to be erected at Ferguson Park, home of the famous Ferguson tractor and farm equipment line, have just been signed.

The new engineering building will mark another step in the company's plan for development at Ferguson Park. The building will be ready for occupancy by June 15.

Mr. Carson said: "There is great need for better and more modern farm machinery to meet the demand for larger food production at home and abroad. To meet this need we are expanding our engineering staff and facilities which will be housed in this new building. We are taking this step to accelerate our development and production of lower cost and more efficient farm equipment."

The new building will be 200 by 250 feet, or 50,000 square feet of floor space. Construction will be completely fireproof with structural steel frame, metal roof, and face brick exterior matching the tractor plant.

The latest in facilities and equipment will be included in the new building. Among its unique features will be a hydraulically operated section of the floor which will facilitate the raising and lowering of heavy equipment.

Ferguson Park is a 72-acre site on Southfield Road in northwest Detroit. The company has emphasized not only industrial efficiency in its plant but also architectural attractiveness. The elements will be stressed in the new engineering building.

Harry Ferguson, president and chairman of the board, has followed the planning for the new building with the keenest interest. As inventor of the Ferguson System and founder of the company, Mr. Ferguson has always given special attention to engineering developments. He enthusiastically of the new forward step at Ferguson Park he said: "The expansion of engineering facilities will enable us to go ahead more rapidly in some very important developments of importance for agricultural machinery and transport."
